

By Invitation

Asian Institute of International Financial Law Faculty of Law, The University of Hong Kong

Announces

Land Law Conversations

An occasional series of discussions on topics concerning land in Hong Kong

Does Hong Kong Need a Law of Adverse Possession?

Adverse possession has been described as land theft but it is legal in Hong Kong although abolished elsewhere. Charles Harpum who as Law Commissioner devised the system of adverse possession applicable to registered land in England & Wales, and others, will discuss whether and, if so, to what extent Hong Kong should retain a law of adverse possession of land. Do the recommendations by the Hong Kong Law Reform Commission on adverse possession in December 2012 go far enough?

Joining in will be Charles Harpum, Michael Wilkinson and Say Goo.

Thursday, 23 January 2014, starting at 1pm
Room 901, 9/F Cheng Yu Tung Tower, University of Hong Kong

Light refreshments will be available.

If you would like to take part or attend, please notify Flora Leung at fkleung@hku.hk on or before Monday, 20 January 2014.