

Charles Feng

Charles Feng is a Director of Fixed Income Research in the Global Markets Division of Deutsche Bank in Hong Kong. Before joining Deutsche Bank in June 2002, he spent over 4 years at Credit Suisse First Boston in Singapore, London, and New York where he was a Vice President in fixed income research as well as derivative trading. Before that, he started his banking career as a government bond strategist in the Bond Portfolio Analysis group of Salomon Brothers in New York.