Good Governance at ANZ in Asia Pacific, Europe & America

Sydney A. Nielsen

Friday, 19 November 2010

1:00 - 2:00 pm

Room 404, 4/F T T Tsui Building, University of Hong Kong

ANZ Banking Group Limited is the third largest bank in Australia and expanding to become a super regional bank in Asia Pacific. With any business expansion comes the need to ensure that there is 'good governance' in place to ensure sustainable checks and balances and give the Management, Board, and Regulators the necessary assurance that the business activities are managed effectively. This presentation will explore ANZ's governance framework and implementation in the region.

Sydney Nielsen is currently ANZ's Director of Compliance for Asia Pacific, Europe and America and has over 20 years experience in Banking with ANZ in Melbourne across various businesses, including International & Correspondent Banking, Corporate & Institutional Banking, Project Management and Operational Risk and Compliance. He also previously spent 5 years with BP Australia in Melbourne working on Compliance projects.

Prior to commencing his current role in Hong Kong in April 2010, he was responsible for Compliance in ANZ's Institutional Division in Melbourne.

Sydney holds a Master of Commercial Law from Monash University in Melbourne and a Master of Project Management from RMIT University in Melbourne.
